

FILATURES TO QUIT SOON DUE TO SHORTAGE OF COCOONS

Some Factories In City Are Already Idle

PRICES HIGHER

Quotations Likely To Mount; Japan's Exports

BY DAVID ARAKIE
(Financial Editor)

Because of the shortage of cocoons practically all the 56 silk filatures in Shanghai will close down after the Chinese New Year—February 16—according to information just received. A few have already closed as they found it impossible to obtain sufficient cocoons to carry on, and the remainder will close after the New Year.

Record prices for raw silk are already being paid because of the cocoon shortage, not only in Shanghai, but in Japan, and prices are expected to go even higher. There are still five months remaining of the raw silk season but the cocoons have gone almost completely out of stock, which is a rather strange happening at this time of year.

Japan has been buying considerable quantities of cocoons from Shanghai and the silk districts direct, and from the opening of the season until November last—to be exact from July until that month—she bought 10,195 piculs, a figure which is comparatively lower than the previous year of 1921, which amounted to 11,845 piculs. Out of a total of 10,195 piculs, Japan took 10,195 piculs, while the United States only bought 450 piculs. The buying on Japanese account is insistent every season, but this season, strange to say, the supply had given out five months before the close.

TUSSAH DROPS

The silk market has been fairly active since our last report appeared. The demand has been principally from the United States, which took during the past week some good parcels of re-reeled tassahs, white steam flature and also tassah at full market prices. Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co. bought 250 to 300 bales of tassah for export to America. This business resulted at Ts. 765 for March delivery. Ten days ago trade was recorded in the same grade at Ts. 800 for March. Closing quotations for tassah flature yesterday were weakish. The demand from France is very small, only a little business resulting. A much larger trade could be put through if exchange in francs remained steady. Some local hongs have big orders on hand from Lyons but these cannot be executed at the moment.

FILATURES TO CLOSE

Many filatures in Shanghai will close down after the Chinese New Year owing to the lack of cocoons. This is extremely unusual for the supplies of cocoon in previous years have known to last throughout the season. Under the circumstances it would seem that there is little likelihood of prices coming down in the future. On the contrary, prices should be on the upgrade. They are, at any rate, the highest ever witnessed on the local market.

Re-reeled tassahs are quoted at Ts. 1,160 for the top grade and Ts. 1,045 for the medium grade. White steam flature is fetching Ts. 1,500 for the best second grade choy and Ts. 1,580 for the top grade. Tussah flature top grade 8 cocoon is at Ts. 800, and for No. 1 and 2 at Ts. 765 to Ts. 780.

Since the beginning of the year some 2,400 bales of all kinds of silk were done on the Shanghai market. Three-quarter of this quantity was purchased by the United States.

CHINESE PRICES HIGH
The Chinese dealers are still holding out for higher prices and are only disposed to sell fair quantities when offered more than the ruling rates. They try to sell as far ahead as possible hoping to get higher prices for spot cargo. The Japanese market is steady. The year just closed has witnessed a record business in Japanese silk, both in prices and volume. Total exports last year from Japan totalled 344,509 piculs, representing a value of yen 671,061,000.

Zien Zung-kwai is now engaged in revising his theory of humor. Zien constitutes the propulsive power for a private richa and Monday afternoon on Avenue Road he invited an entirely ordinary-looking pedestrian to hire his vehicle, thereby occasioning a breach of the Municipal regulations. The ordinary looking person happened to be Chinese Police Constable No. 453, who was enjoying his afternoon off, but stopped back into service long enough to escort Zien to the station.

"I knew all the time he was a police constable," Zien told the Court yesterday. "I only asked him as a joke."

It was obvious that the C.P.C. had not achieved the point of the jest until the Court reached to Zien to pay the cashier $2 as he passed out. Whereupon Zien lost his grin and the C.P.C. broke into one.

WHEELS OF MISFORTUNE

Tsung Oo-dzung was in what the story books delight to call a quandary, whatever that may signify. He was in it up to his neck and the tide seemed to be still rising.

Tsung, in his moments of industry, was by way of acting as incentive to the movements of a handcart, the property of Pau Ah-kan, who deals in merchandise of sundry sorts. Outside of his fits of activity Tsung has a habit of composing himself on a curb, or any other handy place, and dropping off to sleep.

Waking after forty winks on this particular occasion, he slowly perceived that something had happened to the handcart since last he had looked at it. More attentive inspection revealed that a couple of the wheels were missing. Mr. Pau happened up at about this time and participated in the discovery. He informed Tsung in a few smoking words that unless those wheels were back in active service on their rightful chassis in time to take out the next delivery of cabbages, he would be under the painful necessity of garnishing his faithful employee's salary for the next ten or twelve years.

Hence the quandary. Dropping the curtain for a brief interval to denote the passing of half-an-hour and hoisting it again, we now see the handcart, standing before the Pau doorway, with Tsung leaning proudly in the foreground.

Mr. Pau beams.

"Well done—"

But what is this cloud of dust swirling down the street? It pauses before the Pau establishment and resolves itself into none other than Chang Cheng-shen, with a policeman in his wake. Chang takes one look at the Pau handcart and then helps the policeman remove the firm of Pau, Tsung and Co. to the police station, where they are charged with kidnapping the wheels of the unattended chariot of Chang on Seward Road.

Tsung told the court all about the quandary next morning and the Court sympathized and gave him three weeks.

HURLED KILLED BY BLACKJACK, DOCTOR'S OPINION

Medical Evidence Supports Murder Theory; To Send Body Home

Further evidence given at the inquest yesterday afternoon in the United States Court and thorough investigations by Municipal detectives have failed to shed any more light on the circumstances surrounding the mysterious death of Mr. Bernard F. Hurlid, 22-year-old American engineer, who died at the General Hospital last Saturday night.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Hurlid's death was caused by a blow on the top of the head. The jurors fixed the time as between 3:30 and 6:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, and found that a person or persons unknown dealt the blow.

The verdict came after Dr. Thomas B. Dunn, who performed the autopsy, Mr. R. Z. O'Brien, of the Texas Oil Company; Mr. Max Grimble, a Brazilian who resides at the Portland Hotel; Mr. A. Kolchinsky, proprietor of the Portland and Wong Ah-su, a boy employed there, had given testimony.

Dr. Dunn asserted that the fracture of Hurlid's skull was some six inches in length and there were extended hemorrhagic areas over the brain surfaces and through the cerebral tissues. A severe blow, administered on the dome of the head by a heavy weapon with soft covering would have caused the injuries which resulted in Hurlid's death, the physician said.

HIT BY BLACKJACK
In answers to questions put by jurors, Dr. Dunn said that a blackjacking might have caused the blow. He expressed the opinion that Hurlid was not injured by a fall from a richa or a window as the blow must have been struck on top of the head and there were no external abrasions or contusions.

Detective Inspector J. Cruickshank of the police questioned the physician, the latter stating that it would have been possible for Hurlid to walk a mile or two after he had been struck. "Paralysis might come slowly or quickly," the doctor said. He added that Saturday morning when he visited the injured man, Hurlid was able to hear and understand but had lost the faculty of speech.

Mr. O'Brien testified that employees of the Portland Hotel changed their attitude on Sunday night when they heard Hurlid was dead. They talked freely about Hongkong, Jan. 15.—Owing to the rigid cable and mail censorship at Canton, it is difficult to ascertain the latest developments in the fighting on the Western front.

Latest reports from private sources indicate that the war zone is being confined to the region of Kaoyao and Echowai. A descent of the Constitutionalists from Samshui this evening is expected.

The Kwangtung Chen Chiung-ming troops, which were driven eastward from Shuihung by the Constitutionalists, attempted to recapture their lost foothold on Saturday when large quantities of munitions and arms were sent to the front by Chen Chiung-ming. The Kwangai section of the Constitutionalists, however, frustrated their attempt, pressed farther eastward, and captured over 2,000 rifles.

Wen Shui-tch, Commander-in-chief of the naval squadron anchored off Canton, is reported to have deserted Chen Chiung-ming and will take concerted action with the Constitutionalists forces.

Former Justice Of Supreme Court To Work For League

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

New York, Jan. 16.—John H. Clarke, who last September resigned as Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, is now the head of a national organization which will seek to bring the United States into the League of Nations. Plans for the future work of the organization were laid at a meeting here today.

Among the other prominent sponsors of the movement are President-emeritus Charles W. Eliot of Harvard; Miss Jane Adams of Hull House, Chicago; Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; the Right Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, suffragan bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York; William Allen White, Oscar C. Strauss, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the suffragist leader, and Charles Dana Gibson, the famous artist.

SWINEHART MUST PAY $25 MORE PER MONTH TO WIFE

Judge Lobingier Also Grants Fees And Costs

Mr. Dudley R. Swinehart was ordered to pay $25 additional per month for the maintenance of his wife, Mrs. Harriet Swinehart, and his 300 counsel fees and costs of the action in a judgment handed down by Judge Charles S. Lobingier in the United States Court for China yesterday. Mr. Swinehart, however, was authorized to draw upon the trust fund of approximately $5,000, involved in a former court action, to pay the maintenance in monthly installments, by the judgment.

Mr. Swinehart had previously been ordered to pay Mrs. Swinehart $150 per month, but through her attorneys, Schuhl and Schoenfeld, asked the Court for an increase as that amount was not sufficient for her living expenses. Judge Lobingier's judgment, in full, follows:

SYLLABUS (By the Court)

1. Marriage: Maintenance. "One of the prime duties arising out of the marital relation is the duty of the husband to support and maintain the wife."

2. Id: Forfeiture. That right may be forfeited by misconduct but, like other material matters, it must be clearly pleaded and proved.

Messrs. Schuhl and Schoenfeld by Mr. Schuhl for plaintiff.
Messrs. Williams, Franklin and Faison by Mr. Faison for defendant.

THE JUDGMENT

The petition in this case alleges "that the Plaintiff married the Defendant on November 27, 1918 in the City of Kalamazoo, Michigan, and the said parties lived together as man and wife until March 16, 1922 when the Plaintiff because of Defendant's cruelty and ill-treatment, separated from him and has not since cohabited."

To this the defendant by way of answer

"admits paragraph 1 of said petition, and that part of paragraph 2 which alleges that plaintiff and defendant were married in the City of Kalamazoo, Michigan, on November 27, 1918, and did live together as man and wife until on or about March 16, 1922; but generally and specifically denies each and every other material allegation contained in said petition."

It is observed in a well known work:

"One of the prime duties arising out of the marital relation is the duty of the husband to support and maintain the wife." (1)

The husband may be relieved of this duty by the misconduct or fault of the wife but such grounds are never presumed; they must be pleaded and proved.

It will be seen that defendant's answer contains no such averment. Indeed, a literal interpretation of it amounts to a denial of the separation.

FRENCH TROOPS FIRE ON GERMAN OBJECTORS AT BOCHUM, ONE KILLED

Several Wounded As Result Of Collision Between Soldiers And Crowd Of Ten Thousand In Streets Near Town Hall

OCCUPATION FURTHER EXTENDED

General Degoutte's Men Continue To Move Eastward Into Germany; Allied Mission Now Controls Whole Basin

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Jan. 16.—A large political demonstration at Bochum yesterday evening culminated in a collision with French troops who fired, killing one man and wounding several others.

A crowd of several thousand collected outside the Town Hall where the French General is staying, sang patriotic songs, cheered the German Republic and then marched in procession through the streets. A number of young communists made a counter demonstration and cheered the Third International and the French Communist League of Youth. The police were not able to cope with the demonstration which came into collision with the French troops at the railway station with the above result.

THE shaded portion on the sketch shows the extent of the new French occupied zone in Germany to date. The old occupied zone extended from the German border to the Rhine river, shown by the heavy, irregular line in the center of the sketch.

Essen, one of the prominent manufacturing towns of Germany, is in the Prussian Rhine province, 22 miles Northeast of Duesseldorf. The population before the war was about 250,000. It lies at the center of a network of railways giving it access to all the principal towns in the Westphalian iron and coal fields, and the famous Krupp works are located there.

Hattingen, in Westphalia on the river Ruhr, is 21 miles Northeast of Duesseldorf and has a population of about 10,000. Its principal industries are iron and steel manufactures. Bochum, also in Westphalia, has a population of 120,000 and is the center of a big iron and steel manufacturing business. The Bochumer Verein fur Bergbau (mining) and Guetstahl Fabrication (steel manufacture), one of the principal German trusts in the industry, is located there.

Paris, Jan. 16.—It is reported from Essen that, following the German refusal to deliver coal, firm arrangements were made under the auspices of the military authorities for the requisition of coal under martial law, including repression of agitation and measures to prevent stoppage of work.

Measures have been taken to frustrate alleged attempts to remove rolling-stock from the Ruhr. Laden trucks, consigned elsewhere, will be diverted to France and Belgium.

The Committee of Control has announced the discovery that the coal-tax has not been collected during the past three months, resulting in manufacturers getting coal at 40 percent below normal prices.

Paris, Jan. 15.—Following the German Government's prohibition of coal deliveries, the conference at Essen between the French authorities and representatives of the Mine-Owners' Association broke down after Horren Fritz and Thyssen on behalf of the German representatives had declared that the French order to resume coal deliveries could not be obeyed.

General Degoutte immediately ordered an advance on Dortmund. It was announced that the troops will be established this evening on the line of Werden, Hattingen, Heineichenburg, Recklinghausen and Bottrop.

M. Poincaré today conferred with the Ministers of Finance and Public Works and also with M. Barthou with regard to the rupture of the negotiations at Essen.

It was decided that, unless the mine-owners changed their attitude, the French and Belgians should resort to requisitioning, in which event the Germans would be obliged to operate the coal fields.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The Essen correspondent of Vorwaerts states that the miners of the occupied area have refused to work overtime.

(Reuter's Service)
Paris, Jan. 15.—The difficulties of the French in the Ruhr are mainly due to the attitude of the German Government. Berlin's refusal to pay the mines for the coal delivered on the reparations account is the reason that the French today are occupying the second zone, including Bochum, Recklinghausen and Hattingen.

The French have decided to pay for coal from the coal tax, the collection of which by the French begins on Wednesday, but the tax on the coal produced in the zone already occupied is insufficient, hence the necessity for occupying the second zone, which produces double the amount of coal produced in the first.

The meeting of the Reparations Commission has been postponed until tomorrow. It has not yet settled when to deal with the German refusal to continue the reparations payments.

(Reuter's Service)
London, Jan. 15.—Germany's suspension of the payment of reparations and the continuous inflation of her paper currency is reflected in London today in the depreciation of German marks to 55,000.

French francs are relatively steady at 67.50, which is attributed to the commendable action of the French Finance Minister in no longer relying on German reparations and proposing to increase taxation. Belgian francs are quoted at 74 and sterling on New York is steady at 4.67½.

Marks at the close fell to 65.500. French francs related to 69.10 and Belgian francs to 75.55. Sterling on New York was quoted at 4.64½.

(Reuter's Service)
Paris, Jan. 16.—A semi-official statement says that the French and Belgian troops according to plan yesterday completed occupation to the outskirts of Dortmund, which is an important center of communications and electrical works. The movement relieves the Allied engineers' mission of the danger of certain private factories being deprived of motor power or some coal escaping control by means of the canals and railways, serving Central Germany. The Allied Mission is now enabled to establish very effective control of the main production of coal in the Basin.

Lithuanians In Memel Establish Own Government

Exclusive Dispatch to THE CHINA PRESS

Berlin, Jan. 16.—The Lithuanian raiders who have occupied Memel have established their own government with President Simonaitis at the head, according to dispatches from Heidekrug, and have requested the Allied commissioners to have the French troops withdrawn from Memel territory.

Memel is a town in East Prussia, North-east of Königsberg, and has a population of about 20,000. It is defended by a citadel and other fortifications. Its chief importance lies in the fact that it is one of the most important centers on the Baltic for trading in timber and agricultural products of Lithuania. In past years it has often been the scene of hostile action from the Lithuanians and Poles and since the war other factors have entered into its turbulent existence.

ENGINEER TELLS OF CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BRIDGE

An interesting paper dealing with the construction of the new 305-foot span bridge over the Lo Tien Wan Creek on the Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway was read before the Engineering Society of China yesterday by Mr. E. T. Forester.

The bridge replaces a structure of two spans of 104 feet each which had been condemned and, the author believed at the time of writing, was the longest simple span bridge in China. The author went into detail regarding the foundation and the difficulties of providing a solid basis to carry the load and gave his opinion that while the bearing pressures usually adopted in Shanghai may be satisfactory when applied below the saturation level, they are far too high when applied to the soil above this level, and that for important structures it is essential to carry the foundations below this level. He also expressed the opinion that the allowable bearing pressure of 1,700 lbs. per square foot usually employed in Shanghai is too high if employed without piling.

Mr. Forester's paper was illustrated with drawings and photographs.

misconduct, there could properly be no proof thereof, for "It is a well-settled principle that no proof can be offered of matters not put in issue by the pleadings." (2)

We are unable to find that plaintiff has forfeited her marital right of maintenance and it follows that her prayer at least in part, therefore, must be granted. It is for

"$250.00 per month to pay her board and lodging which is now due, $100.00 to pay the cost of this action, and the sum of $100.00, as and for her Counsel fees."

On August 30 an order was entered allowing plaintiff Mex. $150.00 per month. Plaintiff now testifies that this is insufficient. On the other hand defendant states that he is receiving $100.00 per month or about Mex. $400.00 and that his living expenses require Mex. $150.00. This would seem to leave a margin for a slight increase of plaintiff's allowance besides paying, by instalments, something to plaintiff's counsel who, the testimony shows, have received no fee.

It is accordingly considered and adjudged that, in addition to the amount heretofore allowed, defendant pay plaintiff Mex. $25.00 per month and that he pay, by monthly instalments of $15.00 a fee of $150.00 to plaintiff's counsel, together with the costs of this action; but defendant is authorized to draw upon the trust fund involved in Cause No. 1670 in paying the monthly instalments for his wife's maintenance.

Arrangements had been made to hold funeral services here and burial in the Babbington Well Cemetery but the change in plans was the result of a wire received yesterday by Mr. E. L. Healey of the Texas Oil Company. The cablegram read: Mother desires body sent home. On Monday, Mr. Healey, who is also a native of Stoneham, wired Hurd's relatives details of the tragedy and asked for instructions. He will make arrangements today to send the body to America.

In the meantime Inspector Cruickshank and a force of detectives are at work on the case, the evidence at the inquest yesterday, particularly that of Dr. Dunn, tending to substantiate the theory that Hurd was murdered and to eliminate any possibility that his death resulted from a fall. Little can be learned of the altercation in the Portland and the only definite information that Hurd was in trouble at the hotel was a statement he made to friends a few hours before his death. He attempted to tell Dr. Dunn something but had lost his power of speech.

United States Marshal Thurston Porter is working with the Municipal detectives on the case.

DR. SUN DENIES REPORT OF HIS DEAL WITH TSEN

Asserts Forces Fighting Canton Are Under Man Whom He Has Appointed

Dr. Sun Yat-sen yesterday denied the report that he had acceded to the demand of General Tsen Chun-huan to refrain from going to Canton and resume his presidency of the Southern Government. He stated that whether or not he should go to Canton and resume his duties would depend upon the determination and ability of the Peking Government to reunify the nation.

The Republican here considered the report as detrimental to the Constitutional cause inserted to hurt himself and his colleagues of the Kuomintang Party. He further pointed out the report that the forces which were fighting the Cantonese in West Kwangtung were controlled by General Tsen and General Moh Yang-hsin was absolutely incorrect, because the active campaign against General Chen Chung-ming was being carried out by General Yang Shih-min, commander-in-chief of the Yunnan forces who had received the official appointment from Dr. Sun Yat-sen as the Southern president.

Dr. Sun stated that he had limited his military operations within the province of Kwangtung, because he wished to enable the Northern militarists to awaken to a spirit of self-determination and work for national unification peacefully without resorting to further warfare. Otherwise, being a revolutionist, he could not bury his own principles by remaining in Shanghai and allow the unsatisfactory state of affairs to continue.

As to his conference with General Tsen Chun-huan, Dr. Sun asserted that it was not until Sunday night he met him since their discussion in Canton several years ago and the meeting on Sunday was of a social nature, no politics being discussed.

GREEK LOSER IN £2,000,000 SUIT OVER STEAMSHIPS

London Board Of Trade Gets Judgment For Vessels

(Reuter's Service)
London, Jan. 16.—Mr. Justice Hill in the Admiralty Court yesterday gave judgment for plaintiffs in an action in respect of a shipping deal involving £2,000,000.

The Board of Trade, representing the late Shipping Controller, sued a Greek, M. Ambatielos, domiciled in Paris, claiming four standard ships, the Ambatielos, Cephalonia, Panagis and Nicolis, and monies alleged to be due under mortgages entered into when M. Ambatielos agreed to purchase from the Controller nine ships then being built in Hongkong and Shanghai.

His Lordship found against defendant on all heads of the claim and counterclaim.

WOMAN'S CLUB OBTAINS SITE FOR CLUB HOUSE

Will Spend Tails 77,000 On Structure; To Build Auditorium First

An exhibition of the plans of the proposed Tis. 77,000 American Woman's Club house, which is to be erected in Shanghai shortly, will be made at the meeting of the club on February 6 at the old Carlton Cafe on Ningpo Road.

An important business session of the club was held yesterday afternoon proceeding the regular meeting when final plans were discussed.

According to Dr. Anne Walter Fearn, president of the club and one of the most active workers for the new club house, the plans will be enlarged and colored to show the decorative features as well as the general plan of the buildings.

A special feature of the new club house will be an auditorium with a seating capacity of seven hundred. Work on this auditorium will be started at once and the additional rooms will be added as funds are secured.

The plans call for a number of rooms where the various sections will meet, dressing and rest rooms and library and study.

A very fine site has been secured by the club for the new club house but the location is not being made public at present.

Following the business session yesterday, Mrs. Florence Ayscough gave a very fine talk on "The New Tendency in Modern American Poetry" which she illustrated by marks of leading poets of the new school.

Mrs. Ayscough presented her subject from the view point of the critic. She quoted frequently from Miss Amy Lowell's "New Tendencies in American Poetry."

You Will Do a Better Day's Work!

—and you will feel fitter and fresher all day—if you begin the day with Sanatogen.

In these days of keen competition, the man who "wins through" is the man who does a better day's work than his competitors.

When you come to analyse it, the quantity and quality of the work you do depends, to a large extent, on the amount of nerve-energy you possess. It is nerve-energy that enables you to make the most of your brains, and supplies the "driving power" essential to success.

Now, Sanatogen definitely increases nerve, energy—does not merely stimulate or excite—but increases it to a remarkable degree. The result is that when you take Sanatogen you do more and better work than you have been accustomed to do. Nor is this a temporary effect; it continues day by day, week by week.

Dr. Claude L. Wheeler says:—

"The use of Sanatogen is richly rewarded in freedom from languor, a gain of strength and activity, a fitness of mind, and an increased resiliency-power to diseases."

Begin by Taking Sanatogen Regularly Every Morning with or After Breakfast

This will enable you to acquire that extra nerve-energy which spells success in every business and profession; which gives you a zest and a delight in your work; which makes you keen and concentrated, alert and self confident, and thus gives you the power to realise your ambitions.

Take the first step today, not tomorrow—now not presently. Sanatogen can be obtained of all Chemists and Dispensaries.

the German refusal to make further deliveries in kind before the Reparations Commission tomorrow with a view to securing the declaration of a fresh default.

M. Poincaré today conferred with the Ministers of Finance and Public Works and also with M. Barthou with regard to the rupture of the negotiations at Essen.

It was decided that, unless the mine-owners changed their attitude, the French and Belgians should resort to requisitioning, in which event the Germans would be obliged to operate the coal fields.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The Essen correspondent of Vorwaerts states that the miners of the occupied area have refused to work overtime.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 15.—The difficulties of the French in the Ruhr are mainly due to the attitude of the German Government. Berlin's refusal to pay the mines for the coal delivered on the reparations account is the reason that the French today are occupying the second zone, including Bochum, Recklinghausen and Hattingen.

The French have decided to pay for coal from the coal tax, the collection of which by the French begins on Wednesday, but the tax on the coal produced in the zone already occupied is insufficient, hence the necessity for occupying the second zone, which produces double the amount of coal produced in the first.

The meeting of the Reparations Commission has been postponed until tomorrow. It has not yet settled when to deal with the German refusal to continue the reparations payments.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 15.—Germany's suspension of the payment of reparations and the continuous inflation of her paper currency is reflected in London today in the depreciation of German marks to 55,000.

French francs are relatively steady at 67.50, which is attributed to the commendable action of the French Finance Minister in no longer relying on German reparations and proposing to increase taxation. Belgian francs are quoted at 74 and sterling on New York is steady at 4.67½.

Marks at the close fell to 65,500. French francs relapsed to 69.10 and Belgian francs to 75.55. Sterling on New York was quoted at 4.66½.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 16.—A semi-official statement says that the French and Belgian troops according to plan yesterday completed occupation of the outskirts of Dortmund, which is an important center of communications and electrical works. The movement relieves the Allied engineers' mission of the danger of certain private factories being deprived of motor power or some coal escaping control by means of the canals and railways, serving Central Germany. The Allied Mission is now enabled to establish very effective control of the whole production of coal in the Basin.

Lithuanians In Memel Establish Own Government

Exclusive Dispatch to THE CHINA PRESS

Berlin, Jan. 16.—The Lithuanian raiders who have occupied Memel have established their own government with President Simonaitis at the head, according to dispatches from Heldkrug, and have requested the Allied commissioners to have the French troops withdrawn from Memel territory.

Memel is a town in East Prussia, Northeast of Königsberg, and has a population of about 20,000. It is defended by a citadel and other fortifications. Its chief importance lies in the fact that it is one of the most important centers on the Baltic for trading in timber and agricultural products of Lithuania. In past years it has often been the scene of hostile action from the Lithuanians and Poles and since the war other factors have entered into its turbulent existence.

ENGINEER TELLS OF CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BRIDGE

An interesting paper dealing with the construction of the new 305-foot span bridge over the Lo Tien Wan Creek on the Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway was read before the Engineering Society of China yesterday by Mr. E. T. Forrester.

The bridge replaces a structure of two spans of 104 feet each which had been condemned and, the author believed at the time of writing, was the longest simple span bridge in China. The author went into detail regarding the foundation and the difficulties of providing a solid basis to carry the load and gave his opinion that while the bearing pressures usually adopted in Shanghai may be satisfactory when applied below the saturation level, they are far too high when applied to the soil above this level, and that for important structures it is essential to carry the foundations below this level. He also expressed the opinion that the allowable bearing pressure of 1,700 lbs. per square foot usually employed in Shanghai is too high if employed without piling.

Mr. Forrester's paper was illustrated with drawings and photographs.

misconduct, there could properly be no proof thereof, for "It is a well-settled principle that no proof can be offered of matters not put in issue by the pleadings." (2)

We are unable to find that plaintiff has forfeited her marital right of maintenance and it follows that her prayer at least in part, therefore, must be granted. It is for:

"$250.00 per month to pay her board and lodging which is now due, Tls. 100.00 to pay the cost of this action, and the sum of Tls. 500.00, as and for her Counsel fees."

On August 30 an order was entered allowing plaintiff Mex. $150.00 per month. Plaintiff now testifies that this is insufficient. On the other hand defendant states that he is receiving Tls. 300.00 per month or about Mex. $400.00 and that his living expenses require Mex. $150.00. This would seem to leave a margin for a slight increase of plaintiff's allowance besides paying, by instalments, something to plaintiff's counsel who, the testimony shows, have received no fees.

It is accordingly considered and adjudged that, in addition to the amount heretofore allowed, defendant pay plaintiff Mex. $25.00 per month and that he pay, by monthly instalments of Tls. 25.00 a fee of Tls. 300.00 to plaintiff's counsel, together with the costs of this action; but defendant is authorized to draw upon the trust fund involved in Cause No. 1670 in paying the monthly instalments for his wife's maintenance.

Mixed Court Fines Distributor Of Adulterated Milk

Another instance of the sale of adulterated milk in the Settlement was recorded at the Mixed Court yesterday, when a coolie was fined $15, with the alternative of two weeks in jail.

A Health Inspector testified that the man had been arrested on the 10th for selling milk without a license. The milk was found to contain added water.

The coolie stated that he had started selling milk in the Settlement during the eighth moon and had bought the seal which he placed on the bottles. He said he did not know that it was wrong to add water to the milk.

Hurd Killed By Blackjack, Doctor's Opinion

a foreigner having an altercation with a Chinese boy in the hotel before they learned that he had died, Mr. O'Brien said.

Mr. Grimble testified that a foreigner came to the Portland Friday evening between 5:30 or 5:45 o'clock and went directly to the wash room. He was reading a newspaper, he said, when he heard trouble and saw the foreigner assaulting the Chinese boy. The former left hurriedly, he said.

Mr. Grimble was subjected to a severe grilling by Inspector Cruickshank but his story was not shaken.

A. Kolchinsky, proprietor of the Portland, and the Chinese boy were also called.

SEND BODY HOME

Hurd's body will be sent to his father's home in Stoneham, Massachusetts. Arrangements had been made to hold funeral services here and burial in the Belling Well Cemetery but the change in plans was the result of a wire received yesterday by Mr. E. L. Healey of the Texas Oil Company. The cablegram read: Mother desires body sent home. On Monday, Mr. Healey, who is also a native of Stoneham, wired Hurd's relatives details of the tragedy and asked for instructions. He will make arrangements today to send the body to America.

In the meantime Inspector Cruickshank and a force of detectives are at work on the case, the evidence at the inquest yesterday, particularly that of Dr. Dunn, tending to substantiate the theory that Hurd was murdered and to eliminate any possibility that his death resulted from a fall. Little can be learned of the altercation in the Portland and the only definite information that Hurd was in trouble at the hotel was a statement he made to friends a few hours before his death. He attempted to tell Dr. Dunn something but had lost his power of speech.

United States Marshal Thurston Porter is working with the Municipal detectives on the case.

DR. SUN DENIES REPORT OF HIS DEAL WITH TSEN

Asserts Forces Fighting Canton Are Under His Command
He Has Appointed

Dr. Sun Yat-sen yesterday denied the report that he had acceded to the demand of General Tsen Chun-huan to refrain from going to Canton and resume his presidency of the Southern Government. He stated that whether or not he should go to Canton and resume his duties would depend upon the determination and ability of the Peking Government to reunify the nation.

The Republican hero considered the report as detrimental to the Constitutional cause inserted to hurt himself and his colleagues of the Kuomintang Party. He further pointed out the report that the forces which were fighting the Cantonese in West Kwantung were controlled by General Tsen and General Moh Yung-hsin was absolutely incorrect, because the active campaign against General Chen Chiung-ming was being carried out by General Yang Shih-mink, commander-in-chief of the Yunnan forces who had received the official appointment from Dr. Sun Yat-sen as the Southern president.

Dr. Sun stated that he had limited his military operations within the province of Kwangtung, because he wished to enable the Northern militarists to awaken to a spirit of self-determination and work for national unification peacefully without resorting to further warfare. Otherwise, being a revolutionist, he could not bury his own principles by remaining in Shanghai and allow the unsatisfactory state of affairs to continue.

As to his conference with General Tsen Chun-huan, Dr. Sun asserted that it was not until Sunday night he met him since their discussion in Canton several years ago and the meeting on Sunday was of a social nature, no politics being discussed.

GREEK LOSER IN £2,000,000 SUIT OVER STEAMSHIPS

London Board Of Trade Gets Judgment For Vessels

(Reuter's Service)
London, Jan. 16.—Mr. Justice Hill in the Admiralty Court yesterday gave judgment for plaintiffs in an action in respect of a shipping deal involving £2,000,000.

The Board of Trade, representing the late Shipping Controller, sued a Greek, M. Ambatielos, domiciled in Paris, claiming four standard ships, the Ambatielos, Cephalonia, Panagis and Nicolis, and monies alleged to be due under mortgages entered into when M. Ambatielos agreed to purchase from the Controller nine ships then being built in Hongkong and Shanghai.

His Lordship found against defendant on all heads of the claim and counterclaim.

WOMAN'S CLUB OBTAINS SITE FOR CLUB HOUSE

Will Spend Taels 77,000 On Structure; To Build Auditorium First

An exhibition of the plans of the proposed Tls. 77,000 American Woman's Club house, which is to be erected in Shanghai shortly, will be made at the meeting of the club on February 6 at the old Carlton Cafe on Ningpo Road.

An important business session of the club was held yesterday afternoon proceeding the regular meeting when final plans were discussed.

According to Dr. Anne Walter Fearn, president of the club and one of the most active workers for the new club house, the plans will be enlarged and colored to show the decorative features as well as the general plan of the buildings.

A special feature of the new club house will be an auditorium with a seating capacity of seven hundred. Work on this auditorium will be started at once and the additional rooms will be added as funds are secured.

The plans call for a number of rooms where the various sections will meet, dressing and rest rooms and library and study.

A very fine site has been secured by the club for the new club house but the location is not being made public at present.

Following the business session yesterday, Mrs. Florence Ayscough gave a very fine talk on "The New Tendency in Modern American Poetry" which she illustrated by marks of leading poets of the new school.

Mrs. Ayscough presented her subject from the view point of the critic. She quoted frequently from Miss Amy Lowell's "New Tendencies in American Poetry."

You Will Do a Better Day's Work!

—and you will feel fitter and fresher all day—if you begin the day with Sanatogen.

In these days of keen competition, the man who "wins through" is the man who does a better day's work than his competitors.

When you come to analyse it, the quantity and quality of the work you do depends, to a large extent, on the amount of nerve-energy you possess. It is nerve-energy that enables you to make the most of your brains, and supplies the "driving power" essential to success.

Now, Sanatogen definitely increases nerve energy—does not merely stimulate or excite—but increases it to a remarkable degree. The result is that when you take Sanatogen you do more and better work than you have been accustomed to do. Nor is this a temporary effect; it continues day by day, week by week.

Dr. Claude L. Wheeler says:—
"The user of Sanatogen is richly rewarded in freedom from languor, a gain of strength and activity, a richness of mind, and an increased resisting-power to diseases."

Begin by Taking Sanatogen Regularly Every Morning with or After Breakfast

This will enable you to acquire that extra nerve-energy which spells success in every business and profession; which gives you a zest and a delight in your work; which makes you keen and concentrated, alert and self confident, and thus gives you the power to realise your ambitions.

Take the first step today, not tomorrow—now not presently. Sanatogen can be obtained of all Chemists and Dispensaries.

ENVOYS PROTEST NON-PAYMENT OF FOREIGN LOANS

Preferential Treatment For Chinese Is Objected To

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Peking, Jan. 16.—The British, American, French and Japanese Ministers sent the following Note to the Viceroy on December 23:

"The undersigned draw the serious attention of the Foreign Minister to the position created by the inability of the Ministries of Finance and Communications to meet certain obligations to their foreign creditors."

"Much patience has been exercised by the latter, whose expectations of payment were encouraged by reports of schemes for debt consolidation."

"The lack of provision for meeting payments of long established railway loans due in October, November and December, 1922, and the great difficulties encountered in obtaining these payments are also a matter of common knowledge."

"Surprise has been felt that while unsecured foreign debts and obligations have been left unprotected China's internal loans have been temporarily consolidated on the security of the Customs surpluses."

"This state of affairs is prejudicially affecting China's credit, which was formerly of good standing in foreign markets but is now seriously impaired by the default in loans issued by Great Britain, the United States of America, France and Japan."

"The continuance of this preferential treatment of Chinese internal loans is a matter to which the undersigned feel bound to take exception in the interests of their nationals who are creditors of the Chinese Government and are holders of foreign loans guaranteed by the Chinese Government."

"They therefore request that future Customs surpluses should be applied no longer exclusively to the service of internal loans but also to the liquidation of foreign debts and obligations guaranteed by the Chinese Government."

Signed "Y. Ohata; R. H. Chao (British Charge d'Affaires); J. G. Schurman; de Fleuryan."

Carlton Engages Noted Quartette To Sing Tonight

The Golden Gate Quartette, an aggregation of first-class warblers and fun-makers from 'big time' in the United States, arrived on the Empress of Russia for an extended engagement at the Carlton on Bubbling Well. The singers will make their first appearance at the Carlton tonight in the dining rooms during the dinner hour, and later in the ball-room.

The quartette consists of Warren Tehaney, tenor; Roy Collins, baritone; Frank Shaw, second tenor, and Med. Anderson, bass. Frank Shaw produced "Twenty Minutes in Coffee Dan's," a rip-roaring musical skit which made a hit on the Orpheum circuit.

The first special feature the singers will produce is "A Night in Little Italy," a colorful and tuneful array of laughs and sweet melody. It will be featured Saturday night.

President Wilson Passengers Badly Shaken In Gale

Miss Dorothy Williams, daughter of Judge D. R. Williams of the law firm of Williams, Franklin and Faison, received a badly sprained ankle during a 90-mile gale that tossed the President Wilson about like a cork, according to reports appearing in the Honolulu Advertiser. Miss Williams, who had been visiting her father here, was returning to school in the United States.

The gale lasted three days en route from Japan to Honolulu and several passengers received minor injuries while all were shaken up considerably. Among the other Shanghai passengers aboard were Mr. Adolph Spitzel, Mr. and Mrs. B. Ekkelund of the Whangpoo Conservancy, and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Detwiler.

Tomorrow's Games at Y. M. C. A. 8:00, Bearcats vs. S. A. S. 9:00, Stripes vs. Public School.
Friday, at S. R. C., 5:30, Blues vs. Whites.

BY TOMMY GRAFTON
The American School basketball team came back like a whirlwind last night, playing in its old form and defeating the Public School in a hard game on the Y.M.C.A. floor. The score-board read 44 to 19.
Roy Squires played the game of his life, covering the floor and shooting with remarkable accuracy. The S.A.S. star netted nine goals from the floor, and sent in eight from the foul line. Squires was never seen in such form before. It was his day. Every sport of the American School ended with him scoring a perfect shot. In shooting fouls he was also good, scoring most of his chances, and every time the Public School came up close in the first half, Squires pulled his team together, and a hard attack would generally end with the S.A.S. quintet a few points to the good.
A close game was expected and a big crowd-packed the gymnasium. There was some uneven play after the whistle blew, both teams being too excited to shoot accurately, but the winners finally, caged the first goal, and the Public School was not slow in equalising. The Squires brothers came through with a series of well-directed throws, and Hager added to the score with a couple of beautiful tosses from center. The American School was leading 14 to 2, but Jack Levis broke away, and dropped the ball three times through the netting, and the game was closed up. Half-time found the score standing at 26 to 9, after the Americans had staged a wonderful comeback, and caged several lucky shots.
Play was close during the second half, but in scoring ability the American boys were greatly superior to their opponents. The Squires brothers accounting for the entire S.A.S. score during the period. The S.P.S. men fought hard till the last whistle, but they were outclassed.
Levis played exceptionally well for the losers and deserves a lot of credit, but Maxey Smith, the American School star guard, was on him and he had few opportunities.
For the winners the younger Squires and Shipley played wonder basketball, the latter playing a flashy game, and missed a big number of shots by inches. Hager's two goals and his speedy game at guard, was also a feature of the contest.
Both teams were inclined to rough it, but Referee Elliott and Zee called many fouls on both teams, and several of the players had three personals at the close of the game.
The individual scoring follows:
A'ican School 44 Pub. School 19
Shipley 11 Levis 5
Dud Squires 11 Johansson 3
Roy Squires 11 Remedios 3
Hager 11 Mahon 1
Smith 11 Siemsen 1
Parker 11 Lewis 1
McGinnis 1
Goals from floor: Shipley 2, Dud Squires 5, Roy Squires 9, Hager 2, Levis 5, Johansson 3, Remedios 3.
Goals from fouls: Roy Squires 8, Levis 1. Referee: Elliott. Umpire: Zee. Timekeeper: Parker. Scorer: Grafton.

FIVE RECS PLAYERS ON INTERPORT

Shanghai Team Selected Is Great Combine; Name 14 Men SAIL FEB. 12
Four Club, Two Police And Three Engineer Stars Picked For Trip

The Shanghai Interport team which will meet Hongkong next month was selected last night and the men who named the local aggregation have picked a wonderful eleven. It was definitely decided last night that the Shanghai outfit would sail for the South on the Sicilia, which leaves here on February 12. The team will return on the Empress of Russia, due here two weeks later.
Of the fourteen men selected to make the trip, five are from the Shanghai Recreation Club, four from the Football Club, three from the Marine Engineers and two from the Police.
L. J. Coucher, W. E. Dailey, Leslie Goldman and A. S. Phillips of the Club forward line have been picked to fight it out in front with Terry Wilson, of the Engineers and J. R. Johanson of the Recs.
Halfbacks include Freddie Ollerdesen and E. F. Mears of the Recs, G. T. Crawford and C. Knight of the Engineers and C. J. S. MacDonald of the Police.
Jimmy Quayle of the Police and E. Turner of the Recs are the backs selected with Gusie Remedios, the Recs net guardian, as goalkeeper.
The Shanghai men will elect their own captain; are to play in all white and will wear the legend

Elinor Flores Has Chance At Rickard's Diamond Belt; Filipino Meets Dundee Soon

(China Press Service)
New York, Jan. 16.—Tex Rickard, the promoter, announced today that he would offer a diamond belt for the junior lightweight championship.
Elinor Flores, the Filipino wonder, and Johnny Dundee, title holder, will be the first to fight for the trophy as they meet on February 9 at the Madison Square Garden in the fifteen-round main event.
If Dundee wins, he becomes the possessor of the belt. Should Flores beat Johnny, the former must defend the world's championship three successive times. Dundee has already defended his crown twice, thwarting the ambitions of George Cheney and Pepper Martin.
If Flores defeats Dundee, the Filipino will gain permission of the belt to hold until he fights two other challengers and he needs two more victories before it becomes his permanent property.
The fact that Flores has been selected to meet Dundee has caused a flood of cablegrams of congratulations from his admirers in Manila and every message expresses the hope that he will win. Flores is the first Filipino to compete in a world's championship fight.
The coming battle is attracting much attention and the Garden will be jammed when the Filipino fights the champion.

St. John's Five Should Win Basketball Championship; Teams To Be Strengthened

The final game in the first round in the championship series of the Chinese Basketball League will be played tomorrow evening between the All-Whites and the alumni team of the Public School for Chinese. The game is to start at 7 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Chinese Y.M.C.A. The teams are evenly matched, and each will try hard to cop the game to tie with Fuhtan for the second place.
St. John's went through the first round without being defeated, winning the six games in easy style. The quintet is the best balanced team in the league, composed of fast forwards and strong guards, and unless drastic changes are made in the other games, St. John's expects to win the championship title.
Shanghai Baptist College made a very poor showing during the first round, with only one victory and five defeats. The reason is that most of the varsity basketball players were on the football team and so could take not part in the games. Now that the football season is over for the colleges, Shanghai College will have a stronger team for the second round.
The Cantonese Baptist Church team will also be reinforced. The church members were too weak to meet the other teams, and have lost six straight games. Nevertheless, they showed good spirit in playing every scheduled game, and they also have showed excellent sportsmanship. Some new players will be recruited and the team will be strengthened.
The Amateurs who were considered high class ball-tossers during the early part of the season, did not come up to expectations. Evidently some of the players are not in good form. But Capt. T. T. Zee is not a man to be easily discouraged. He is now busy practising with his men and is confident to make a better showing in the second round.
The following is the present standing of the league:

McKINLEY HERE FRIDAY, HAS MAIL; PIERCE DELAYED

Shinyo Out Tomorrow For San Francisco; Sardinia In Today

The steamer President McKinley, with mail from the United States, will leave Kobe today and is due in Shanghai on Friday. The vessel is to sail for Hongkong and Manila next Sunday.

The President Pierce of the Pacific Mail which was due here tomorrow, may be delayed. No word of its arrival in Japan has been received.

Mail for America and Honolulu will be dispatched on the Shinyo Maru tomorrow and will close at 1:30 p.m. for ordinary and 12:30 p.m. for registered matter. The next fast mail for American ports will go on the President McKinley of the Admiral Oriental Line on January 25. This vessel will arrive in Seattle on February 10. The Shinyo Maru is due at Wadding from Hongkong early tomorrow morning and will sail in the evening. The tender with outgoing passengers and baggage will leave the Customs jetty at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and the incoming passengers are expected to land about 9:30 a.m.

The next mail for European ports via the Suez will be sent on the Sardinia on Saturday, and is to close at 9:30 and 8:30 a.m. for ordinary and registered respectively. Parcels must be posted by 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The Sardinia is due in Shanghai from Kobe this morning and will sail for London and ports. The tender with outgoing passengers is to leave the Customs jetty at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, and heavy baggage must be delivered to the lighter at the Customs jetty between 2 and 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The liner is due to arrive in London on March 5.

Christian Endeavor Topic Books For 1923

Hints and helps on Christian Endeavor topic for 1923. For sale by Edward Evans and Sons, Ltd., Shanghai. English edition 25 cents, Chinese edition 5 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Strother are indefatigable in their efforts to promote Christian Endeavor in China and are ably seconded by the Editorial Secretary, Rev. Joshua Vale, who edits the "Hints and Helps."

Fifty thousand copies of the Chinese edition have been printed and five thousand of the English. A large number of advertisements has made possible such an extensive issue and really enhances the value of the publication, especially as the advertisements are indexed.

The little booklet gives a Bible Reading Calendar by which the New Testament may be read through in a year by following the portion assigned for each day. The Lesson for each Sunday is accompanied by a short Exposition, followed by thoughts for Meditation, Illustrations and Prayer Suggestions, altogether a very useful book which should be in the hands of every Endeavorer, and many others.

S. Africa Looks To East For Renewal Of Coal Trade

(Reuters Service)

London, Jan. 16.—A telegram from Johannesburg says that the Union's coal trade to the East may be restored owing to the French occupation of the Ruhr.

The Rand strike last year resulted in the loss of the Far East coal trade but there is now possibly an opportunity to reestablish the market.

British mines supply India and the Far East with a large proportion of their coal but in the event of urgent calls on the European market it is doubtful whether the demands could be met without the assistance of the Natal and Transvaal mines.

St. John's University Closes Because Of Sickness Increase

St. John's University has been closed for ten days because of an epidemic of scarlet fever at the school and diphtheria, according to an announcement made last night.

Fifteen cases have already been reported and in order to prevent a spread of the epidemic it was decided to close the school and allow the students to return to their homes for ten days.

The final examinations of the term are scheduled to begin on January 26 and it is not known as yet whether the closing will cause the examinations to be postponed or not.

Canadian Pacific Atlantic Sailings For 1923 Announced

Ninety-nine steamship sailings are scheduled by the Canadian Pacific for the St. Lawrence season this year. There will be 72 departures of Canadian Pacific liners from the port of Montreal and from Quebec there will be 27 departures.

The Montreal season will open with the sailing of the Metagama, on May 3, bound for Belfast and Glasgow, inaugurating the new service to Ireland from Canada. The Belfast-Glasgow service will be maintained by the Metagama, the Marburn and the Marloch.

The Margian and Marvale, according to the new arrangements, will institute a new service from Montreal to Cherbourg, Southampton and London, and westbound from London, Southampton and Havre to Montreal. London will be used as a freight call only, passengers disembarking at Cherbourg and Southampton. Havre and Southampton will be the ports of embarkation. The first sailing from Montreal is scheduled for May 19.

The Montreal-Liverpool service will start on May 4 with the departure of the Montcalm for Liverpool. The Montcalm and her two new sister ships, the Montclair and Montrose, will maintain a regularly weekly service in connection with the Montclair. The former Empress of India, now renamed the Montclair, 17,100 tons, will be the largest one-class cabin steamship in the Canadian passenger service. She will continue to make Quebec her Canadian port of call.

The service inaugurated by the Canadian Pacific this past summer between Quebec and Hamburg, via Cherbourg and Southampton, by the Empress of Scotland, 25,000 tons, and Empress of France, 18,500 tons, will be strengthened by the addition of the Empress of Britain, 15,850 tons. Fortnightly sailings are scheduled for the 1923 season.

Premier Optimistic For Reunification

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 15.—Premier Chang Shou-tseng was the guest of honor at a reception given at noon today by the Committee on Commercial Treaties affiliated with the Associated Chinese General Chambers of Commerce at Peking.

In the course of his speech, Premier Chang dwelt at length on his reunification scheme, which, he said, could be realized only with the co-operation of the merchants.

Chang Wei-yung, Chairman of the Peking General Chamber of Commerce, who also spoke said that, despite the political schism in the country, the Chinese merchants remained a united whole. Reunification would be effected, he added, if the Government respected public opinion.

Bank Floated For Silk Interests

A Silk and Cocoon Bank has been organized by members of the local Silk Association. The bank will be located at the corner of Szechuen and Canton Roads.

At a preliminary meeting held Monday it was decided that the initial capital of the bank should be fixed at $1,000,000 Chinese currency, of which the assets of the Silk and Cocoon Exchange, in liquidation, valued at Tls. 500,000, should form part.

The principal object of the bank is to extend credit to silk merchants to facilitate the carrying on of their business.

Kaai's Troubadors

Kaai's Royal Hawaiian Troubadors, the band of vocalists, instrumentalists and dancers who have been delighting large audiences at the Victoria Theater, are giving a special matinee performance at 5 p.m. today. A specially arranged program is to be given, with numbers selected particularly for the benefit of the children.

The programs thus far given at the Victoria have been excellent, particularly as regards the Hawaiian numbers. The company gives its last performance at the Victoria this evening and will then remove to the Olympic Theater for a five-night engagement.

Sentence Indian To Jail Term For Smuggling Arms

Sajawal Shah was sentenced to one month in jail for smuggling arms into China by Judge Peter Grain in the British Police Court yesterday.

Sajawal Shah was found leaving the steamer, President Taft, on Sunday, December 17, with nine revolvers and 300 rounds of ammunition. The defendant stated that a member of the crew asked him to carry the bag to the tender. On the way he was detained.

Inspector Mellows said the defendant had no right to travel by the tender without a permit as he was not employed on that vessel as a watchman.

The Judge said he did not believe the defendant's story. And as a great deal of arms smuggling was going on just now, particularly with Indians coming in and selling arms in the town, the defendant would go to jail for a month.

MORAL WELFARE WORK

At both services of the Community Church on next Sunday the program and work of the Moral Welfare League will be explained. The speakers will be: Rev. J. W. Compared with the previous year's total, there was an increase of $1,770 piculs valued at yen 252,922,000. Exports of silk crepe last year from Japan totalled 6,493,639 yards valued at yen 19,806,000, the increase being 565,898 yards and yen 1,801,000 in value. The shipments of other silk textiles are estimated at yen 24,748,000, an increase of yen 491,000.

There is only one redeeming feature in the metals trade—and that is a little inquiry now, and again, which prevents the local market from falling into a state of coma. Galvanized sheets are in demand and a good indent trade was done last week. The outlook is by no means cheerful. The American prices for wire products registered another advance yesterday of five cents gold per hundred pounds, which makes an increase of ten cents gold per hundred pounds, and holders of wire nails and other wire products should not find it difficult to secure a decent profit on their holdings.

It is not likely that any big drop will be witnessed in the non-ferrous metals markets both in New York and London. Let it be said straightaway that the Chinese dealers are not anticipating any such decline to place orders. The disorder in the interior of the country is certainly militating against any fresh importation except for very pressing needs. When the state of the country improved and property in the hands of the country merchants are less prone to fall into the clutches of the marauding soldiery, there should be keen buying by metals merchants, and not until then.

METALS DEPRESSED
The most interesting development in the iron and steel market of Shanghai last week was the renewed buying of galvanized sheets, in which a fair volume of business was placed with the American manufacturers.

There has been very little inquiry from outsiders. During the past ten days prices of American wire products advanced ten cents gold per hundred pounds, five cents of which was announced yesterday.

The market for antimony in China during the past month has been very dull. Importations in anticipation of the increase of duty although not excessive were sufficient to bring about a reasonable slackening in subsequent business established as most of the large consumers had covered their requirements for several months to come. There being a number of outside lots bought speculatively by outside holders prior to the changing of the American duty there has been some attempt at profit-taking, but concessions in prices have failed to awaken much response from buyers, and the market for spot antimony has sagged steadily. American buyers are offering 6.70 cents gold duty paid.

Offerings of antimony from Shanghai to the United States have been freer than they had been for several months, but there is great irregularity in prices demanded and offered.

ANTIMONY STOCKS
Stocks of antimony in Shanghai and Hongkong are not large. Production at the present price is limited to one section only in China. American buyers are showing very little interest in Chinese antimony. Large holders of spot stocks in the States seem content to pursue a waiting policy without any desire to press the situation.

TIN QUIET
The Shanghai market for tin has been very quiet. Straits and Banca tin have been neglected for some time. A very unusual incident has to be recorded. A shipment of a hundred tons of Chinese tin was shipped some three weeks ago to Germany from New York. A financial organ of the States comments: "This is the cheapest market in the world for this grade." The visible supply of tin in London at the end of last month was 22,280 tons as compared with 22,246 tons at the end of November last. Present prices are not considered high on the London Metals Exchange for Straits tin, while English smelters are reported to be provided with very little stocks. Tin is quoted at $179 1/4 for spot and $180 3/4 for future. The tinplate production in the United States last year has passed all records.

U. S. MARKET
The United States in recent weeks have been making record sales of iron to Europe. The present monthly output by the American refiners is about 150 million pounds while last year it was something like 90 million pounds. Stocks of zinc are cabled to be some 25 percent lower than last year. The consumption of pig iron in England is assuming larger proportions and is making more than at any time last year. The following are the latest rates for some of the main metals on the London Metals Exchange: Heavy steel scrap, 70 shillings per ton against 65-6 last ten days; heavy cast iron scrap 7 1/2 against 7 1/4 per ton; ship plates $8.15 per ton; Cleveland pig iron 92 1/2 against 91 1/2; Scottish pig iron 91 1/2 against 94 per ton; spelter 35 1/2 for spot, lead 26 1/2 spot; copper 64 1/2 spot and 65 1/4 electrolytic copper 71 1/2 spot and 71 1/4 future.

JAPANESE BUYING
Japanese specifications of black sheets are in demand for early shipment, but British works are unable to accept the business. The British manufacturers are also not in a position to accept orders for galvanized sheets as they are well booked. All branches of the metals markets in the United States are optimistic. A larger volume of business is looked forward to. The American steel in duty is running at present to eighty percent of capacity. Copper is very active and the buying of electrolytic is very heavy. Evidently a pronounced buying movement is well advanced and the prices in New York are about the highest to far touched, being quoted now at 14 1/2 cents gold. The price is predicted to touch 15 cents gold and it would appear that it has become distinctly a seller's market. The present price of electrolytic on the American market is the highest since December, 1921.

The rising price of electrolytic copper has had the effect of stimulating the market in Japan, where the price has risen to yen 45. Even at this price small quantities are offered. It is stated that the Japanese wire manufacturers are reeling copper with aluminium, which is cheaper and just as durable.

Charge Spaniard In Fraud Case; Hearing Today

Edward Castro, a Spaniard, was arrested yesterday by Detective Sergeant Quayle of Wayside station charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from a Chinese living at 537 East Hanbury Road.

According to the Chinese Castro approached him with an offer to secure three stalls for him in the Hongkew Market upon payment of $150, which the Chinese says he paid Castro. Later he discovered that Castro had no connection with the market.

He was charged in the Spanish Consular Court yesterday, but after Detective Sergeant Papp and the Chinese had given evidence the case was adjourned until this morning for more witnesses to be brought to court.

Three Comets Sweep
Into Our Skies

(China Press Correspondence)

Cambridge, Mass., (by mail).—The spectacle of three comets swinging through the skies is afforded astronomers for the first time in years. To the two comets, Skjellerup and Beade's, that have been under observation for weeks, another was added Dec. 13. The third comet, known as Perrine's, making an other visitation to our stellar system after an absence of two generations, has been sighted again.

Announcement of the rediscovery of Perrine's comet was made by the Harvard College Observatory, clearing house in this country for astronomical reports. In a cable dispatch from the Central Bureau of Astronomical Telegrams at Copenhagen, Nakamura, a Japanese scientist, reported having spotted the wanderer on November 29. The position which he gave is southeast of the star Procyon and about midway between the constellations Monoceros and Hydra. In magnitude the comet is comparatively faint, but in point of speed the daily motion was said to be fairly fast. Its light is in a southeasterly direction.

The Harvard Observatory astronomers also announced an observation from Professor A. O. Leuschner, director of the students' observatory, University of California, that may change the name of Skjellerup's comet by identifying it as Brooks' comet. The latter, after a brief career in our skies in 1892, swept along out of sight. If the comet attributed recently to Skjellerup, who reported it, proves to be that of Brooks, the latter will have closed their orbits by reappearance. Computations by Wood, the South African astronomer, place the probable time of Perihelion passage for this comet as New Year's Day.

Beade's comet, third of the travelers through the starry spaces now under astronomical observation, is making its first appearance, so far as known. All indications are that it is one of those which flash once through our heavens, never to appear again.

In a letter received from Senor Jose M. Chacon of the Mexican National Observatory, made public by the Harvard College Observatory on Dec. 13, it was estimated that Beade's comet had made its perihelion passage for this comet as observations on which this estimate was based were made two weeks after that date.

Lausanne Debates
Debts Question

THE CHINA PRESS
Exclusive Dispatch To
London, Jan. 16.—An Exchange telegram from Constantinople reports that five Christians have been condemned to be hanged by the court at Smyrna.

(French Wireless through Reuters)
Paris, Jan. 15.—The Financial Sub-Commission of the Lausanne Conference today discussed the partition of the total debt. The Turkish delegate expressed the desire that Turkey should be freed from all responsibility for that part of the Ottoman Public Debt which falls to the other States, successors of the Turkish Empire. M. Venizelos supported his point of view. With regard to the Ottoman debt from railway loans, the Turkish delegation accepted in principle recourse to the International Court of Justice at the Hague.

It is reported that Earl Curzon will leave shortly for London.

(Reuters Service)

Constantinople, Jan. 16.—It transpires that both the attacked Coldstream Guardsmen survived. One, who was stabbed in the head and received a very deep wound, was unconscious for many hours. The other was stabbed in the throat and is progressing. The attack was entirely unprovoked.

"Footloose" Craft
To Cruise Pacific

(China Press Service)

Manila, Jan. 15.—A group of 15 Americans, residents of the Philippines, are planning to cross the Southern Pacific Ocean in a Japanese fishing boat, which has been christened the "Footloose." They propose to make the trip in a leisurely fashion, visiting the various island groups in the South Seas. Their destination is the western coast of South America. They propose to carry with them a newspaperman, who will be detailed to keep the log of the journey and write up the voyage for later publication. The boat is new and carries a trained crew. The skipper of the expedition, Captain Thomas Martin of Cebu, is an old-time sailor who has had long experience in the Southern Seas. The expedition will probably start this month.

Russian Relief

NEWS that the American Red Cross, through the China Central Committee here, is to spend $25,000 in preliminary relief work among Russian refugees in Manchuria once more shows that the Red Cross is the only organization large enough, sufficiently organized and financed to take over such a gigantic problem as is entailed in caring for the 53,000 refugees from Russia who are now in China, Manchuria and Korea.

The preliminary allotment is to be expended in making a survey of conditions in Manchuria—where approximately 35,000 refugees have gathered—and in taking care of a number of cases that are desperate and in need of immediate relief. Other allotments to take care of the great mass of the refugees are expected in the near future.

The Red Cross, which always handles such relief work in an expert and businesslike manner to the satisfaction of the organization's sponsors and the prayers of those assisted, should undertake the care of the Russian refugees not only in Manchuria, but in all China, alone, or in co-operation with the Chinese Red Cross.

Splendid relief work for the refugees is already under way in Shanghai and should be liberally supported, but the efforts are sporadic and not united under one administrative head as they should be. The Red Cross, by taking the lead here, as it has done elsewhere when there has been a big job to do, could so concentrate the relief work that what requires to be done would be done efficiently and to the satisfaction of both givers and the receivers.

The Red Cross could draw on its national funds—and swell them by local contributions, because the people of Shanghai and China would much rather give once, now, than give in dribbles through the media of relief committees, dances and individual appeals. We hope the Red Cross will take on the job in toto.

Doctor: "Why didn't you put on the porous plaster I sent you?"
Pat: "Plaster, doctor, o'm a member of th' 'Doc Carriers' Union, and it's against th' rules for our branch to do any plasterin'."

Mrs. B. "My husband did not like that tea you sent me last."
Grocer (politely): "Did you like it, madam?"
"Yes, I liked it."
Grocer (to clerk): "James! Send Mrs. Blank another pound of the same tea she had last. Anything else, madam?"

Speakin' of reparations, it would seem to be cheaper for Germany to move than to pay rent, but they seem to be determined to hang onto the old homestead.

Among the letters advertised in the American Post Office list is one for J. Frost. After peeping at the thermometer, we see no logical reason why Col. Ford should put in a hurry up call for Jack.

And we sincerely hope that Miss Blanche Apple, who is also advertised, gets there before J. Frost does.

Miss Ina Hoot Nanny says she sees where it takes a cent gold to get the letters and in her opinion a cent gold would just about be a scent.

England has been under Scotland's heel for three centuries, according to Arnold Bennett. My, but won't that make the Irish sore when they learn of it?

PA JONGG SEZ:
"You young fellows never want to rush into a love affair. Take it from an old fellow that knows, love is a game that requires waiting, concentration and a poker face."

If you have any germs of discontent jabbing about in your system today we suggest the following Couleistic prescription: an extract from a letter from Bruce Hopper, now in the United States of Aridity:
"Hereafter, me for the warm countries, and the true, the bluish Hippocrene. No more will the terrors of cholera and amoebae deter me from lolling in the tropics. This stuff about the pine trees is the weeds, Larry. Give me the palms with the fruits hanging down to the ground, sweet flowers to smell, that I might owe wide the nostrils the medical profession has given me back, without fear of an icy wind chilling my brain."

"P. S. Last night it was 25 degrees below zero—Billings Mont."

Foreigners can't divorce their wives in Turkey now, according to news dispatches. We can't figure out why the terrible Turks are so sore against foreigners.

HOURS

The Hours run in, the Hours run out.

Like laughing maids at play: A blossom here, a blossom there, They scatter on the way— And we who watch their merriment, Rejoice, from day to day.

But when the dark days come, when we Are bent and grey and old; When snow lies deep along the road, And nights are bitter cold, The Hours—I pray they be not crones.

Without a flower to hold, I pray that still they brightly run, As in the days ago, Within their hands the bloom of spring.

Upon their brows, the dawn; When fires of life are low, I hope, Their breath may blow thereon.

SUCHIEN, KIANGSU

The political upheavals which have troubled China during the past year have not seriously disturbed this district; partly because this is an out-of-the-way place, and partly because the people here have more pressing sources of trouble nearer at home.

Bandits in the immediate neighborhood worry the people more than politicians in Peking. However, the people here are very much interested in elections, from the financial standpoint. The method of conducting elections is beautiful in its simplicity: no frenzied speeches about home rule, ship subsidy, soldiers' honor or tariff. Each small district sends a delegate to the sectional convention, where the delegates sell their votes to the candidates for the provincial assembly or for the Peking Parliament, as the case may be.

The price of votes varies from about $300 to $1,000 or more according to circumstances. The only campaign pledge required of the delegates is that he will bring back the proceeds of the sale of his vote, to be used for some public enterprise. It is a well-known fact that many of the local schools in this part of the country look upon the sale of votes as one of their principal means of support. A case is reported from the country north of here, in which some delegates broke their pledge and kept the money for their own use, defying their constituents to bring legal action. However, such procedure is considered very bad form, almost dishonest.

During the past few years, in connection with the widespread clamor for the withdrawal of extraterritoriality, certain gentlemen have assured the world that China now has a thoroughly modern and efficient judicial system, fully capable of guaranteeing justice to all. If the threatened consequences of this propaganda were not so serious, such statements might provoke a smile on the part of those who know the real facts. Meanwhile, the county magistrates, who may be called the rulers of the Chinese people, go serenely on their way, torturing prisoners with nameless horrors to extort confession, just as their predecessors have done for thousands of years.

The little papers issued by the students of some public schools indicate that these schools are being saturated with communistic ideas to a remarkable extent. It seems absurd for boys in higher primary schools, especially in view of the fact that practically every one of these boys would lose, rather than gain, by an equal distribution of property. Of course the vast masses of the people have not yet been touched by these wild theories, but if said theories are taught in all the public schools of China for many years, the consequences may prove disastrous. It is said that Bolshevik literature is also being mailed free to many of the educated gentlemen of the city.

The crops of the past year were the best that have been harvested in this section of country for many years. The dry weather in the spring may have slightly injured some crops; but on the other hand, good crops were raised in the lowlands, bottoms of ponds, etc., which are usually under water in the summer. On the whole, the yield was splendid, many Chinese estimate it at 100 percent. In view of these fine crops, it is rather surprising to find that the price of food is very high, much higher now than at this season last year. Flour is practically the same price now as during the worst of the famine last spring, when it reached 132 cash per catty. Of course there is much more grain in the country than last year, but the farmers are not selling very freely, partly owing to the present dry weather, which threatens to injure the coming wheat crop.

The high price of food calls for an increase in salaries and wages. As usual, the unskilled laborers have been the first to demand and receive increased pay. The rates received by these men are not altogether fixed, so it is impossible to say exactly what the increase has been in their case, but it is safe to say that it has been about 100 percent in the past year, for some classes of workers, such as wheelbarrow coolies, etc. Some of these coolies are said to be making 1,000 cash per day now, while it is impossible to get them to do even light work for less than 500 per day. Owing to the depreciation in copper during the year, the actual increase in wages is not so great as the above figures would seem to indicate. The public school funds are in copper, and the teachers are paid in copper, when they are paid at all. For some months past, the public school teachers of this place have had a great deal of trouble in trying to collect their salaries. In despair, they finally imitated the example of the professors in the National University at Peking. Taking bag and baggage, they moved into the office of the treasurer of school funds, and calmly announced that they had come to stay until money was forthcoming.

In order to carry out the idea of being penniless, they secured food on credit at the neighboring restaurants and grills. The treasurer, perceiving that his face would soon be "difficult to look at," as our Chinese friends say, made terms with the teachers. By the judicious use of a little hard cash and many promises, he succeeded in persuading his self-invited guests to end their visit, at least for the time being. The school lands of this county, if honestly administered, would be more than sufficient to support the present number of schools. The above incident merely goes to show that the frenzied financial policies of Peking are also practiced, on a small scale, in the obscure cities of the interior.

The commercial activities of this place labor under very grave disadvantages. Suchien is located on the Grand Canal, which is navigable during most of the year, but the customhouses between Chinkiang and this city are sufficient to drive the merchants to despair. The worst of all is Hwaigwan, one of the most notorious customhouses in China, the terror of boatmen and traders alike. In addition to this, every little village along the canal bank has its local customhouse and levies blackmail on the passing goods. A farmer of modest means, bringing his little supply of grain from his farm to his city home, had to pay customs along the way. Imagine an American farmer saying customs between his fields and his barn!

Sometimes the Suchien merchants, in order to avoid the customhouses along the canal, ship their goods by rail to Hsuehchow, then bring them 80 miles across country on wheelbarrows or carts. This route is about 130 miles farther than the canal route and of course the land transportation should be much more expensive than boats. Despite these handicaps, a considerable amount of business is done.

The farmers also suffer grave injustice in the matter of taxation. Land taxes are assessed in taels and collected in copper, at a rate fully three times higher than the current rate of exchange in the banks.

During the past year, the new Lung Hai Railway has been built astward from Hsuehchow to a point on the Grand Canal, 40 miles from Suchien. Construction trains now maintain a regular schedule on this section of the line, carrying freight cars well fitted up for passengers. This new train service is quite a convenience to the people north of us, and is heavily patronized. Some men here have made efforts to establish a motor car service from Suchien to the railway, but have not yet succeeded.

The great outstanding curse of North Kiangsu is the dreadful scourge of bandits, a veritable reign of terror, day and night, year after year, almost without interruption. Last summer this section of country was fairly well cleaned up for a time, but conditions have been growing worse again for some time past. The other night the western horizon was lighted up for hours by the fires of eight villages, only about eight miles from Suchien City. The next day the wounded began coming into the mission hospital, mostly women and children, who explained that nearly all the men had been killed on the spot. Many persons were carried off to be held for ransom.

When ransom money comes in too slowly, the bandits sometimes kill some of their poorer captives, to make the wealthy ones pay up promptly. Without going into gruesome details, let us say that the situation is simply unbearable, and it seems to be absolutely hopeless, as the Chinese officials do not care to stop the bandits. So long as this disgraceful condition goes unchecked, it is useless to expect much progress in any line of legitimate activity.

Despite the famine in the spring and the disturbances caused by robbers throughout most of the past year, missionary work has been carried on without serious interruption, and with very encouraging results. Chinese Christians are undertaking an increasing share of evangelistic work and responsibility. The station has a hospital and more than 50 schools, including boys' and girls' high schools. The schools are well filled with promising students.

This letter may not be very optimistic, but it could not be optimistic and true at the same time. The present condition of Suchien forms a subject more suitable for Jeremiah than for Pollyanna. This condition must be squarely faced, it cannot be remedied by ignoring its existence.

Culture In Europe

(Christian Science Monitor)

Among the important difficulties with which Europe is contending is one which is certainly not appreciated in America, and is scarcely observed by the general public even in the countries where the conditions are worst. This difficulty is that of procuring books and other facilities for education and culture. It is recognized today in a score of ways which were not possible in an earlier age that the countries of the world are all intimately associated with each other. The development of means of communication have brought the peoples nearer. Commerce weaver its web around the globe. Political interests interlock. High finance operates internationally. Social ideas circulate freely and influence every land. Philosophically, the doctrine of solidarity has never been so generally accepted, and everywhere is emphasized the thought of the fraternity and unity of mankind.

And yet, in spite of these facts, never was the student in Europe so handicapped. It is not easy for him to learn what is being done outside his own country, or even inside his own country. The collapse of the monetary exchanges has had no consequence more serious than this one. The younger generation in many European lands is virtually uneducated. Even the teachers find themselves unable to keep abreast of the times along all lines of research and study.

In France, a vigorous outcry has been recently raised by the universities. The laboratories which have need of instruments from abroad, can no longer buy them. They are in a state of disrepair. Paris, the cradle of culture, thinks it no shame to make known that never before were her requirements so ill supplied. There are appeals to the public. But the public does not respond. There are appeals to the Government. But the Government has its own more immediate and material troubles.

As for the students themselves they could at one time live on very little. Now they are compelled to demand a number of francs for their sustenance that their fathers of the middle classes cannot furnish, except in some cases at great sacrifice.

But if conditions are so uncongenial in France, what are they in the countries of Central Europe where the currencies have collapsed? For the Austrian student it has become a physical impossibility to purchase a foreign book. Germany, too, which devoted great attention to scholasticism, is in a serious case. The young Germans of today are greatly hampered by their lack of resources. German industrialists may be growing rich, but German intellectuals are becoming poorer and poorer.

The vicissitudes through which Russia has passed have, of course, dealt a severe blow to Russian enlightenment. There were many branches of art and of thought in which Russia excelled. The educated classes were restricted but they were among the elite of the world. The Bolshevik Government certainly appears to have been making great efforts to improve conditions in this respect, but it remains true that Russia is chiefly turning its attention to the so-called necessities, and even were it ten times more anxious to raise up a new intellectual class, its means are obviously limited by circumstances.

Much could be written, too, of the Balkan countries, from Czechoslovakia to Bulgaria, but the same tale would have to be told. It may be that this collapse of culture is the gravest aftermath of war. Is there nothing to be done? Something has indeed been done by generous American associations, but nothing like sufficient. War is not only the outcome of ignorance, but is the mother of ignorance.

commissions to Indians every year, for free admission of Indians to the Navy and Air Force, and generally for the development of every path by which Indians may learn to take an honorable part in the defence of their country. In fact, India will only consent to pay for an army if she sees it gradually becoming an entirely Indian army. This is much the most disconcerting demand which new India has yet put forward. Mistakes in other regions can be remedied. But with an army weak in numbers, and in loyalty to its officers, India would swiftly return to the incoherent and incongruous groups from which it has taken a hundred and fifty years of British peace to evolve the outline of a nation. England is in the difficult position of owing two loyalties to India. She has promised India self-government, involving self-defence; she is also bound to protect India from anarchy and invasion. Her task is to reconcile these well-nigh irreconcilable duties. A dramatic concession now, such as the drastic cutting down of headquarters staffs and the opening of every branch of the service to Indians, would do something to restore confidence. Some such proposal Lord Inchcape's Committee is bound to make. He can hardly yield his "axe" too vigorously to please Indians, whose hearts are much more set on economy than on efficiency. Lord Inchcape's mission is primarily financial, and his destined victim military expenditure.

SWISS GRUYERE CHEESE

"BOUQUET des ALPES" Brand
Preserved in Small Tins

This Creamy Gruyere Cheese is prepared from the richest unskimmed milk from Swiss high pastures under the most hygienic conditions, and is warranted pure. Being packed without crust, it is more economical than crusted cheese every particle being eatable. The manufacturers of the "Bouquet des Alpes" brand, who are also the inventors of this kind of Swiss Cheese, succeeded in packing Gruyere Cheese into small tins, and by their special process are not only able to secure a perfect preservation but also to retain the delicate flavour of the finest Gruyere Cheese.

Scientific Heres and Puz

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
(Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest)

"In a recent article you stated that if a hole were knocked in the bottom of a steamship, so that the water could enter and fill empty compartments and hollow places, down it would go, not stopping till it rested on the bottom of the lake or sea. Will you kindly inform me whether that applies to oceans or not? My friends insist that it does not, and that ships which are lost in mid-ocean never touch bottom but are tossed about a mile down. Also please tell me how far down are the cables laid, and why—R. Davis, New York."

It seems one must be extremely precise and particular in his use of words if he is to combat successfully the long-lived, and ever hobbling-up, error that sunken ships do not go absolutely to the bottom of the ocean, but remain suspended a mile, more or less, below the surface of the water.

The statement quoted was intended to convey the meaning that sunken ships do go to the bottom of the ocean, and the word "sea" was used in its ordinary acceptance when employed in a general sense, viz., as equivalent to "ocean." When we speak of the sea without naming any particular body of water, we mean the ocean, or oceans, as a whole. This is illustrated by the common expression "to go to sea."

I need not so soon repeat in detail what I have several times said in explanation of this fact. In a word, the sinking is due to the filling of the interior of the ship with water, so that only as much water is displaced as would correspond in volume with the solid parts of the vessel, and this amount of water is less in weight than the material of the ship, so that, in accordance with the law of buoyancy, the latter must go down until it rests on the bottom.

Occasionally it happens that a wrecked vessel is not entirely filled with water, and in such cases the hull will become "waterlogged," i.e., it will have as a whole about the same weight as the water it displaces, and so will float barely submerged, just as the human body floats for a similar reason. But let the interior of the vessel once be entirely filled with water, and it will inevitably go to the bottom, because the increase of density of the water with increase of depth is so slight that, in such a case, it may be disregarded.

The sinking is not affected by the fact that the pressure of the water at the bottom is enormous, greater than at the surface of the ocean. The pressure is equal in all directions at any given depth, and its increase could only affect the buoyancy if it produced a corresponding increase of the density of the water while that of the ship remained unchanged.

The simple fact that deep sea sounding apparatus readily sinks to the bottom of holes in the ocean five miles or more in depth should alone suffice to correct the notion that sunken ships float half way down.

Cables are laid on the bottom of the ocean, where only the enormous strain upon the wire can be relieved.

"In my basement is a stand beneath the window on which is placed a bell-shaped drinking glass, open end up. This window is below the floor of a porch extending to the east. I have noticed that when the sun rises high enough so that the porch cuts off all but a small part of the rays entering the basement it shines through one of the curved edges of the glass only casting an image on the floor, the lines of which are alternately black and white. As the curved lip breaks up the rays I do not understand why they diffuse into black and white.—L. G. Miller, Chicago."

You have an interesting case of the interference of light waves. The variation of thickness of the curved lip of the drinking glass and the varying angles at which the rays are incident upon it cause the light waves that have passed through the glass to emerge at different angles, so that they cross one another, some meeting in the same undulatory phase and others in opposite phases.

Those that combine in the same phase reinforce one another and produce an increase of brightness, while the others which meet in opposite phases extinguish one another with the result that a dark line appears on the floor where the light would fall if either set of waves alone were present.

The phenomena arising from the interference of light waves have been utilised, as you no doubt know, in many scientific investigations, with the aid of Michelson's instrument called the "interferometer." In one of its forms it furnished the inception of Einstein's theory of relativity by proving that the motion of the earth through the ether cannot be detected by any effect upon the light waves and in another form, when applied to the giant 100-inch telescope at Mount Wilson, it has revealed the astonishing fact that the star Betelgeuse is 215,000,000 miles in diameter, and the star Antares 400,000,000.

Get That Pesky Corn with "Gets-It" At All Chemists

Lord Inchcape And The Indian Army

BY H. GRAY

(In The London Daily News)

The most live question in India at the moment is the demand for a national army. It has suddenly sprung into prominence, and is prompted both by the nationalist aspirations of the people and by the exigencies of the Budget.

India has become aware that self-government involves self-defence, and that the future political progress of the country depends on her power to enforce her views, if necessary, by force. At the same time, the last two Budgets, with their enormous deficits, have made her realise how ill she can afford to pay for the costly British garrison. Military expenditure hangs like a millstone round her neck, nullifying the promise of her new Parliaments, blocking every avenue towards nation-building.

India demands control of military expenditure and the "Indianisation" of the army as a proof of our bona fides. Till Britain makes a substantial reduction in the cost of the British garrison, and recruits Indian officers on a more liberal scale, India will not believe that we really intend her to become self-governing. She points out that her heart is set not on conquest, but on such things as compulsory education, industrial development, better roads and railways, and that all her pet schemes are abortive for want of funds.

While India is clamoring for more rice in every hut, cheaper water in every canal, more saris for every bride, more schools for every boy, England is maintaining British battalions each of which costs 2½ lakhs per annum compared with 5 lakhs for an Indian battalion, and has enormously increased the numbers of headquarter and divisional staffs. There is an insistent demand, both within and without the Legislature, for a reduction in the number of "brass hats," for a gift of at least 25 percent of the King's

Would Oust Professor
Who Doubts The Devil

(China Press Correspondence)
Liberty, Mo., by mail.—Dr. A.
Wakefield Slater, head of the Department of Biblical Literature and Religious Education in William Jewell College here, announced that the Executive Committee of the Trustees had demanded his resignation from the college because certain of his religious views were considered "radical." He has refused to get out and the whole board will meet to decide the case.

Dr. Slater is the author of a recently published book, "What Jesus Taught," which propounded certain interpretations of the Scriptures that were not in harmony with the views held by the rank and file of Missouri Baptists.
One point in controversy is the time of the writing of the Book of Daniel in the Old Testament.
Dr. Slater holds that it was written about the year 167 B.C., while it is the belief of the ultra-conservative elements of the college that it was written about the Sixth Century B.C. Dr. Slater is charged with not believing in miracles, demons and Satan. This charge is correct, the Professor admits.

"To many Christians," Dr.
Slater says in his book, "angels, demons and even Satan have become unreal. To refer insanity, epilepsy, loss of speech or any other disease to possession of a demon would seem to them a regression to the primitive ideas of savages, who employ witch doctors to call forth the evil spirits from the sick."

In another place the author says:

"Bible students made a long step forward when they began to think of the Bible as literature and to study it in the way that other students study."

The story of creation as recorded in the Book of Genesis is characterised as a "Hebrew folk tale."

It is said that many members of the faculty share some of the modern liberal views expressed by Dr. Slater.

JAP MERCHANTS
APPROVE STAND
OF CHAMBER HERE

The Shanghai Chinese General
Chamber of Commerce has received a reply from the National Chamber of Commerce of Japan, endorsing the view of the local Chamber set forth in a recent manifesto, that the Powers should not lend money to the Chinese Government for administrative or military purposes, pending the reunification of the country.

The reply states it is to the interest of all who have commercial and industrial investments in China that the Powers should refrain from loaning money to the Chinese Government as interference war in China is a menace to the maintenance of peace in the Far East.

The Japanese Chamber of Commerce has further assured the local commercial body that it will do its best for the attainment of the common goal towards which the Chinese Chamber is working.

Local Sino-French School Dissolved on Account Of Strike

The Tsung Fah Sino-French Institute of Commerce and Technology, which was jointly established by the French and Chinese Governments for the education of Chinese students in engineering and commerce, has been formally dissolved.

The dissolution came as a consequence of a demand on the part of the students to change the institute into a university, which, upon being refused by the authorities, resulted in a strike of the students.

Mr. Feng Chen-chun, who has been commissioned by the Ministry of Education to investigate the case, has arrived in Shanghai.
He declares that it is the intention of the Chinese Government to continue the commercial course offered by the institute, though at present the Ministry is pressed for funds.

A manifesto recently issued by the student body of the institute describes the school as having been badly administered throughout its two years of existence.
The manifesto adds that the system of having two Presidents for the college (one Chinese and one French as provided by the agreement between the Chinese and French Governments) further impeded the efficiency of the administration.

The Chinese Government is also blamed for not providing sufficient funds for the college.

PARIS PREFERS
LIGHTER FORMS OF AMUSEMENT

Gay Paree Folks Don't Care
To Do Heavy Thinking
At Play

(China Press Correspondence)
Paris.—The people of Paris spend a quarter of a billion francs yearly on theaters and motion pictures, and do not care to do much heavy thinking during the process. Government statistics on last year's receipts of every playhouse in Paris warrant these statements, and at the same time supply interesting information about what pleases the tired business man of France and his non-voting wife.

Motion picture houses, which outnumber the regular theaters three to one, took in 50,000,000 francs in 1919, rather more than did the theaters, and a third of the total amusement receipts.
Last year, however, the theaters took first places with receipts of $6,000,000 francs, 11,000,000 more than the movies. This increase seems to be due largely to the fact that theatergoers have modified their oppositional attitude toward high prices of admission and also by a revival of the typically light and racy play.

The government-subsidised
Opera, and the Opera Comique, headed the list with the largest receipts, each taking in more than 9,000,000 francs last year, and the serious Comedie Francaise did well with 6,000,000 francs, but these institutions are virtually without competition in their field, and they represent a big portion of the money paid for the classics.

The Folies-Bergeres, where the big scenes always hinge on the presentation of a group of handsome show-girls, tops the list of theaters, exceeding even the famous Comedie Francaise. The next in line among the dramatic houses is the Palais Royal, which always pursues a policy of giving highly spiced comedies of family life.
